Regular Meeting Town Council

At the last council meeting Mayor Colpoys and councillors Wilson, Jones, Michael, Hampton and Hunter were present.

It was decided to go ahead with the resurfacing of the water tower and the secretary was instructed to check and make sure that the extension joint required has been ordered.

A letter from Mr. Galbraith, secretary of the Union of Alberta Municipalities was read to the councillors and it was suggested that the letter should be shown to Mr. G. Bell for his attention.

By-law No. 415 was read the 16th time and passed.

The date of the tax sale was set for January 15, 1953.

Applications for a building permit was received from G. Wheeler and another man Wilson Schell. Both applications were approved.

Mrs. Melway made application for permits to about the pigpens that were bothering her. She was granted permission subject to the supervision of the R.C.M.P.

The matter of taxing transients and the repeal of that portion of the by-law dealing with transients was also brought up at this next meeting.

Gordon Stitt asked if permission would be granted to move the McConnel house out of town if he should purchase it. His query was answered in the affirmative provided he abides by all provisions laid down in the town by-laws and all taxes paid.

The council decided to request the R.C.M.P. to enforce the by-law regarding trailer owners obtaining permits to park within the town limits. The council decided that they had no authority to act with regard to the gate on the fair grounds.

The reports of the R.C.M.P. for the months of August and September were read and accepted and ordered filed.

The auditors report for the half year ending June 30th was read and accepted.

Since a 250 gallon propane tank is not procurable at present a tank with a capacity of 500 gallons was ordered to be purchased. Councillor Hunter asked Mr. Colpoys if it would be possible to change to a 500 gallon tank for a 250 gallon tank later on. Mr. Colpoys thought that would be possible.

All accounts that were found to be correct by the finance committee were ordered paid. It was decided that the charge for digging with the backhoe including backfilling be 10c for each linear foot and 10c for each foot in depth.

The secretary was instructed to write the Pioneer Elevator company to the effect that the town is willing to contribute $150 towards improving the approaches to the elevators provided the elevators assumed the responsibility of getting the work done. Councillor Hampton moved the adjournment.

A HARVEST SONG

After the plowing and sowing
After the burdens and heat,
After the seasons of striving
Cometh reward that is sweet;
Cometh a rest-time so merry,
When labor is not in vain,
A time to laugh and be merry,
Singing the harvest refrain.

After the battle of effort,
After the sigh and the tear,
After the watching and waiting
The time of reaping is near;
When the deeds and seeds bear fruit—
Age

Cometh a time to be glad;
After a trouble is over
Time to forget we were sad.

After the planting and tending—
Long after the frosts mature,
Cometh sweet rest for the weary
And peace for those who endure;
A time for rejoicing cometh,
Then laugh and thy mirth prolong—
Till's reaping season is in reaping
When cometh sweet rest and song.

Town & District

Dale and Donald Hunter spent the weekend in town visiting their parents Mr. and Mrs. R. K. Hunter.

Mr. and Mrs. P. Warner spent the weekend at Cochrane visiting Mr. and Mrs. Carl Sammons.

Mr. and Mrs. Fridley Evans and Edgy Glyn of Calgary spent Thanksgiving in town visiting relatives. They spent most of their time, running the remote side business. They had very good luck and took home enough birds to keep them stocked in meat for a week.

Mr. and Mrs. Rod Leggett and Miss Berna Leggett of Calgary spent the holiday weekend in town the guests of Mrs. Menard and Leslie.

Dr. and Mrs. A. E. Wilson and baby of Calgary were visitors at the home of the former's parents for a few days last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Bert Ross of Calgary were house guests at the home of the former's sister during the holiday.

It was bound to happen. For days the three-cornered, like a vanguard, which you yearns to wade in a chill stream but hesitates to dip its toe into the icy water, had been firing with the 22 degree mark. Suddenly the decision was made and early one morning houseboats and all ground was covered with a substantial veneer of frost. The air is so still that the smoke of heavily-laden furnace fires rises plume-like into the sky, reminding one of candles on a white-lit birthday cake. Adults penetrated attics to dust and polish iron windows, and to cellar to place lawn chairs safely away, to drain exposed water pipes, and to hang up the cooled garden hose. The freeze is winter's warning. The white flag which it displays on roofs, far from being a token of surrender is an indication that a series of assaults with snow, sleet, and bitter zero weather, is about to begin. Thus, winter gives ample notice of its coming. Heeding the notice, no householder need be caught napping.

OUR SCHOOL

Teachers are often asked "Don't you teach 'sounds' any more?" Sometimes we hear something like this.

"My Johnny has been going to school for nearly a year and he doesn't know his ABC's."

Letter sounds and phonetic combinations are not taught to the beginner in reading. They are taught at a later stage as one means of helping him to recognize new words. At the beginning, no emphasis is placed on learning the alphabet. Most children will know the letters in correct order by the end of grade two, which is early enough, since the chief purpose of learning the letters in order is to make them use the dictionary or encyclopedia efficiently.

Beginners are taught to read by what is known as the "Look and Say" method. Children quickly learn to recognize words and combinations of words by looking at them and saying them after the teacher. Action pictures help them to understand the words with the action. They will learn about two hundred words in this way in a very short time, and not later than the really few phonetic English words, as is the case of the "cat, rat, hat" primers they are now reading interesting little stories.

Phonetics are introduced at this stage to help them to recognize new words on their own. Since English is not a phonetic language, the teaching of phonetics is not the great help it was once thought to be. Pupils who are keen to read by sounding out the words often become mere "word learners," and fail to recognize the thought behind the words. If they first learn to read short sentences (usually, there is not much danger of this), phonetics and phonetic couplings (such as ate, left, into, etc.) are taught as one means of helping pupils to help themselves. By this time they will also be able to recognize many words by their relation to the thought contained in the sentence, since they have been taught from the beginning to read thought and not words.

Next week we shall tell how we teach reading in the intermediate grades.

Our new school building is nearing completion and from the glimpses we have had of the interior, we can hand-wait for the day when we shall be moving into it.

WORLD LEADERSHIP WANTED

International trade is the only means by which the fruits of the earth and the products of industry can be distributed among the people of the world. It is the only means by which men can live at peace with each other and the only means by which our western civilization can long survive.

Trading nations have always been leaders in the civilized world, for they are the nations which with the world outlook necessary for world leadership.

It was as a trading nation that Britain rose to greatness and gave the Pax Britannica of the nineteenth century.

Two world wars have left Britain too poor and too weak to continue that role; and her people seem to have turned their thoughts to other directions.

The western world now looks to the United States to take up the burden of world leadership that Britain is no longer able to carry.

But American leadership is not proving altogether satisfactory to the other nations.

Americans have their own ideas of international trade. In their view trade is of secondary importance and should be subservient to the development of their domestic industries.

There is something incongruous about a country with the greatest productive capacity in the world being afraid to meet the competition of lesser countries in its own markets.

For a country with the tremendous exportable surplus of goods that the United States has, it is odd the markets of other countries with its surplus products, and to exclude the surplus products of those countries from its own markets is to demonstrate its complete isolation.

But this is precisely what America is doing. She would rather sell her products on credit, or even give them away, than admit the products of other countries to her markets.

American statesmen realize that this is no way to win friends or influence nations, and are doing their best to correct the situation; but they are powerless against Congress and the constitution.

The president can make what treaties he will with other countries; but he can't limit Congress, and Congress makes the laws that stipulate what roads may or may not enter the country and on what terms.

The serious thing about the situation is that Congress does actually represent the will of the people, that the American people are more concerned to build up their domestic industries than to expand their external trade.

Trade is carried on by individuals and private corporations. No doubt there are plenty of men and corporations in the U.S. who would welcome the opportunity to engage in world trade to such an extent and on such terms as would make their country an outstanding leader among the free nations of the world. But they will have to wait and the world will have to wait till the American people as a whole are willing to accept world leadership with all that it implies.

The Diplomatic Service

A BREXIT ANNOUNCEMENT from Ottawa of the addition of twenty-four members to the diplomatic service reminds us of the growth of Canada's importance in international affairs during the past few years. It has frequently been said that Canada was one of the few countries which emerged from the Second World War stronger than they were at the beginning. Because of her geographical position and of her resources of raw material, power and labor, Canada did develop rapidly to meet the urgent needs of less fortunate countries during that critical time.

Has Grown Since War

Since the war there has been continued need abroad for the output of Canada's farms and industries and with this increase in economic importance there has come an increase also in the importance of her diplomatic relations with other countries. In the past ten years Canada's prestige in foreign affairs has increased greatly and her representatives have been heard in the discussion of almost all important international problems. The Canadian diplomatic service is at present made up of 234 officers, of which about a dozen are women, and these officers are the source of supply of diplomats and leaders to represent Canada in foreign countries. This representation has increased considerably in the past ten years and the responsibilities of those who undertake this important work are heavy.

Rigid Tests Are Passed

The growth of Canada's representation abroad began in 1880 when the first High Commissioner for Canada was sent to Britain. Later missions were opened in other countries in the Commonwealth and in foreign countries. The service continued to grow through the years and in 1951 Canada had diplomatic or consular representatives in thirty-seven countries. Young Canadians wishing to enter the diplomatic service must pass rigid civil service examinations and only those having the highest capabilities were admitted. Recently a competitive examination was held in which 3000 young Canadians wishing to enter the diplomatic service must pass rigid civil service examinations and only those having the highest capabilities were admitted. Recently a competitive examination was held in which 3000 young Canadians wishing to enter the diplomatic service must pass rigid civil service examinations and only those having the highest capabilities were admitted.

HERE AND THERE

Mr. and Mrs. Autemester of Calgary spent Monday in town visiting friends.

Thanksgiving day saw the district invaded by hundreds of small game hunters. All report very having had very good luck in bringing down the birds.

Monday night the heaviest frost of the season struck the district. Since all harvesting is almost finished very little damage if any was done.

The regular meeting of the Gleichen branch of the Ladies Auxiliary to the Canadian Legion was held last Thursday evening in the Legion Hall with the president Mrs. H. Bogate in the chair. After the business session of the meeting having been completed the meeting closed in usual form. Then the march of dimes and a pleasant social hour ended another evening.

The Gleichen United Church Women's Association were very pleased at the success of their home cooking sale held at the Gleichen Pharmacy last Saturday afternoon.

Former residents of Gleichen Mrs. Gillespie, Mrs. Urich, Mrs. Canfield and another sister spent Thanksgiving in the district. They are now residents of Calgary. They left Tuesday for Vulcan and Lethbridge where they will spend a few days visiting friends and relatives.

Since Monday the town has had a large number of trucks hauling crushed gravel and spreading it on the streets. This gravel is coming from a pit near the bridge leading to Arrowwood. Last week Arrowwood had its streets gravelled by the same firm that is graveling Gleichen streets.

Mr. and Mrs. Ted Boos of Calgary spent a few days during the past week visiting at the home of Mrs. Boos parents, Mr. and Mrs. P. Kelly.

Peter Weinmiller who has been a guest at Eventide Home for the past year and a half died Sunday morning at the age of 63 years. He was born in Europe and had been a resident of Alberta for the past twenty years. He came to Gleichen from Lethbridge. Funeral services were conducted Monday afternoon at 2:00 o'clock with Major A. F. Parkinson of the Salvation Army officiating. Interment was made in Eventide cemetery.

The town fire whistle has now been set up in its new location on top of a tower. It was tested out one day last week and heard all over the town.

The regular meeting of the United Church Women's Association was held at the home of Mrs. W. Pugh's on October 8th with 15 ladies present. The usual form of business was dealt with. The devotional period topic was "Thanksgiving and Thankfulness." Final arrangements were made for the lake sale. Mrs. Morrison extended an invitation from the Chany W. A. to a joint meeting to be held in the Chany hall on November 4th to hear Mrs. Priestly, president of Calgary Presbyterian W. A., who will be the guest speaker. It is hoped that as many as can will attend this meeting from the local W. A. A delicious lunch brought a pleasant afternoon to a close.

The Canadian Woolen and Knit Goods Manufacturers Association is the largest single section of the vast Canadian primary textile industry, the country's leading employer of manufacturing labor.

Canadian women over the age of 15 used an average of 8.4 pairs of full-fashioned hosiery last year. Since mining first started in the south-western district in northern Ontario, 41 mines have produced 334,000,000 pounds of nickel ore.

There are 750,000 farms in Canada. Ontario leads all provinces of Canada with the largest output of sugar and highest per cent. sugar in beets. Best sugar output in 1951 was 53,000,000.

Annual per capita consumption of cigarettes in Canada is 1,200. The British figure is 1,400 and the United States 2,400.

"My son has chosen banking"

When a bank manager retired last year, he wrote his General Manager to tell why he was proud his son also had chosen a banking career:

"I shall always recall my banking days with pleasure and I cannot think of any other occupation that gives one a greater opportunity to meet people and form lasting friendships. I have been privileged to serve the bank in three provinces... That my son has chosen banking is also a great satisfaction to me. He is most anxious to make good on his own account."

Any young man on the lookout for an interesting and worthwhile career—for opportunities to grow and get ahead—should take a look at banking. Have a talk with the bank manager in your neighborhood branch. It may well prove an important turning point in your life.

GOVERNMENT BUSINESS

PROVINCIAL DEBT

This is what your Alberta Government has done to the $167,000,000 public debt accumulated between 1908 and 1935:

- $25,000,000 was saved the taxpayers of Alberta outright through debt reduction negotiations.
- Average interest rate on Province of Alberta debentures in 1936 was 4.88 percent and now it is 2.87 percent.
- A debt retirement plan has been arranged to wipe out the entire debt by 1973—in 21 years time—or at an earlier date if it is in the public interest to do so.
- This schedule of debt retirement will require 5 percent of the revenue on income account compared to 51 percent required to pay interest charges in 1936.

How much has the Provincial Debt been reduced?
Total Debt, March 31, 1936 ..... $167,027,144
Total Debt, March 31, 1952 ..... 97,742,487
Debt reduction ..... $69,284,657
